"SATISFACTION OR YOUR MONEY BACK"

Woman Loses Leg.

Drs. Homer Bane and Lacy Hopson, of this place, went to Golden Pond Monday, where they assisted Dr. E. M. Goerber, of that place, in amputating the left leg of Mrs. Sam Garland, who lives a few miles above that place.

Mrs. Garland has been suffering for some time from what is commonly called dead bone, which was the cause of the limb having to be amputated just below the knee.

Milton on Virtue.

I cannot praise a fugitive and cloistered virtue, unexercised and unbreathed, that never sallies out and sees her adversary, but slinks out of the race where that immortal garrison is to be run for, not without dust and heat.—John Milton.

Delphics Wins.

The debate between the Ciceronian and Delphic Literary Societies of the local High School at the joint open session yesterday afternoon was won by the Delphics. The subject was, "Resolved, That Man will do more for the love of woman than for the love of money." The affirmative was represented by Robert Brumfield, Potter Lackey and James Higgins; the negative by Livingston Leavell, Cooper Weeks and Lee Oldham. The Judges, Messrs. Ira D. Smith, Alvin Clark and Oglesby Soyars, awarded a 2-1 decision.

Magnificence of War.

"Are you the leader of this band of men?" "No," replied the general in a turbulent territory; "I'm their follower. I tell them where I want them with a gun and see that they go there."

A Good Lap Holder.

"What is your grandmother good for, anyhow?" asked a teasing ten-year-old boy of six-year-old Tom. "She's too old to work and too fat to run about and play with. What is she good for, anyhow?" "Well, she's good to hold me on her lap," was Tom's reply, "and I kin bet she's got the stuffing out of anybody that has anything to say agin my grandma."

Teacher Dropped Dead.

Mt. Vernon, Ky., April 23.—W. A. B. Davis, Superintendent of Schools of Mt. Vernon, dropped dead at the railroad station here just after he had purchased a ticket for Louisville, where he had intended attending the convention of the Kentucky Educational Association.

HONORS TO JAMES L. ALLEN

Christian County Well Represented In Louisville K. E. A. Meeting.

Louisville, Ky., Apr. 22.—Last night a great crowd of Kentucky teachers met in the auditorium of the First Christian church to do honor to America's far famed writer and Kentucky's illustrious son, James Lane Allen. Mr. Allen was not present, on account of his feeble health, but he sent a message to the teachers of Kentucky which was read by Mr. Cale Young Rice, who is a close friend of Mr. Allen. A splendid musical program was rendered and readings were given from Mr. Allen's works. The speakers of the evening were:

Mr. Cale Young Rice; Judge Alex P. Humphrey and M. A. Cassidy. Mr. Rice presided over the meeting. Today the regular session began. In the afternoon the teachers were given a reception. In the evening the trustees were given a banquet at the Galt House.

A new epoch has been made in the history of education. Tonight about four hundred trustees were given a banquet by the Louisville Commercial Club. Perhaps this is the first time in the history of the world when a body of trustees were entertained by a Commercial Club. After the splendid menu, the opening was conducted by Mr. James Speed, who introduced the toastmaster Dr. Landrum. The speakers were:

Hon. John B. McFerran, "The School Trustee."

Hon. John C. Strother, "Business Management of Public Schools."

Hon. Thurston Ballard "The Efficient Rural School."

Rev. T. M. Hawes "The Schoolmaster."

Excellent music was rendered by orchestra. The trustees were aroused to a keener sense of duty and inspired to grasp a nobler vision of the possibilities of the rural school. They discussed with the number of newspaper reporters present and among themselves the trustee problem with enthusiasm never stirred before.

The general and departmental programs were carried out today with large crowds in attendance in spite of heavy rain.

The meeting will close on Saturday morning. Supt. Foster will address the body.

Christian county was well represented. Prof. L. E. Foster presided over one of the Round Table discussions to-day.

GIRLS SHOULD SWIM

Some Colleges Now Teach a Regular Swimming Course.

Recently visitors to a woman's college were startled to see a young lady student dressed in street attire plunge into the swimming tank and swim around it twice. The instructor explained that this was done in order that the girls might learn to swim with their ordinary clothes on, and the wisdom of this is apparent, for that is just what they would have to do to save themselves if they were thrown into the water from a capsized boat.

There are many expressions of regret among the young people of both sexes that there is now no place in this city where swimming can be taught. During the years 1912 and 1913, Edgewater Park was conducted as a fashionable bathing and boating resort and many of the young people learned to be expert swimmers.

Last year the river channel was not allowed to be filled and there are no indications that the dam will be closed this year. There is no body of water anywhere in or near the city where bathing is possible and those who cannot go to the seashore will have to content themselves with a bathtub for another season.

His Wife An Eddyville Girl.

Says the Paducah News-Democrat: Edwin Bliss, the well-known writer of fiction, who had just completed a series of stories entitled "Who Pays," and who dropped dead in the Hotel Vanderbilt, in New York City, as told in a dispatch from the Gotham City under date of the 14th, was the husband of a daughter of Mr. S. N. Leonard for many years a resident of this place and Eddyville, Ky., which was Mrs. Bliss' native hearth. Mrs. Bliss was formerly Miss Salie Leonard. Mr. Bliss and wife had been married a number of years.

They Surely Will.

Mr. Yeast—"Cook says if you wet a spoon before using it to serve jelly you will find the jelly will not stick to it." Mrs. Yeast—"Yes, but if none sticks to the spoon the people will eat more, won't they?"

A COMET VISIBLE

Comet May Now Be Seen in The Northeast.

A comet may be seen about 10:30 o'clock at night low on the polar star. It ascends during the night and may be seen best in the northeast between 2 and 4 o'clock a. m. The comet is faint, having the brightness of a third magnitude star, and has a tail several degrees in length. It is really much larger than the famous Halley's comet, but is vastly farther from the earth than Halley's approached four years ago. It will be visible to the naked eye until the middle of November.
